HASTA MANANA.

When all is in bad and the year still unfolding, When there are rubs and points still on the spray, When that grim school gown your charm is withholding,

Then, Manana! child, well may you say: "Hasta Manana! Hasta Manana! Until tomorrow, amigo," always.

And Manana, when crimson and yellow, Peep through green sepals the roses of May, And through black leaves the bloom of the May, Fresh as these roses, child, still you may say, "Hasta Manana! Hasta Manana! Until tomorrow, amigo," always.

When all is in bloom and the rose in its passion, Warned on your bosom, would never say nay, Still it is wise—in your own country fashion—Under your opening fan only to say: "Hasta Manana! Hasta Manana! Until tomorrow, amigo," always.

When all is gray and the roses are scattered, Hearts may have broken that brooked no delay, Yet will tomorrow succor of sorrow Bring unto eyes and lips that still can say: "Hasta Manana! Hasta Manana! Until tomorrow, amigo," always.

Phrase of Castilian lands! Speech that in language is a gem, From Sevilla's orange groves to remote Yungay, Best heard from rosy lips—let thy words say: "Hasta Manana! Hasta Manana! Until tomorrow, amigo," always.

A TRIBUTE OF SONG.

There is no place on earth where utter helplessness comes out so strongly, where the ceremonies in human life fall so powerless before the majesty of the occasion, as at a funeral. It need not be that one's heart shall be interested. The obsequies of a stranger conducted with all the pomp and vanity of church and state, with the melancholy rolling drums of the military funeral, or the gorgeousness of the Masonic regalia, apron—all are alike inadequate and unavailing.

But once in my life have I witnessed a ceremony that was so grand, impressive and appropriate to the silent, awful occasion.

I will tell you of a funeral which lingers in my memory as the grandest, most solemn and best fitting ceremony that was ever given to the dead.

It was rumored many years ago that a poor widowed woman, leading a hard life of unending labor, was called to part with the one thing dear to her—her only child. Mother and daughter had toiled together for 15 years, and the only bit of sunshine falling into their dark lives was that shed by their loving companionship. But the girl had always been sickly. Under the heart-broken mother's eyes had faded and wasted away with consumption, and at last the day came when the wan face failed to answer with its ghostly smile the anxious, tear-blinded eyes of the mother.

The poor young creature was dead. For many months the pair had been supported by the "old woman's" sewing, and it was in the character of employer I had become acquainted with Mrs. Cramp and her story. By an occasional visit to the awful heights of an east-side tenement where they lived, by a few books and with some comforting words, I had won the love of the dying girl.

Her grateful thoughts turned to me in her hours to the small number of friends she possessed, and she besought her mother to notify me of the day of her funeral and ask me to attend.

The summons reached me upon one of the wildest days of winter. A sleet that was not rain and a rain that was not snow came pelting from all points of the compass. A wind that waited in the chimney and howled in the street told how truly dreadful for outdoor purposes was the weather of the day. I piled the glowing grate, I drew closer the curtains and shut out the gloom of the December afternoon. I turned on the gas and sat down, devoutly thankful that I had cut all connection with the wretched weather, when an installment of it burst in on me in the shape of a Europa Rossa. She was Euphrosyne Parepa at that time, and the operative idol of the city. Muffled with tippets, flecked with snow, glowing with the short encounter she had had with the elements rushing up the steps from her carriage, she threw herself into an easy chair and proclaimed the horrors of the outer world to be beyond description.

And even as she contemplated ourselves on the prospect of a delightful day together, there came the summons for me to go to the humble funeral of the poor, sewing woman's daughter. I turned the little tear-blinded note over and groaned.

"This is terrible," said I. "It's just the one errand that could take me out today, but I must go." alone. So, therefore, with a sympathetic grasp of the poor, worn, bony hand, we sat gently down to "attend the funeral."

The undertaker's man, with a screwdriver in his hand, jumped about in the passage to keep warm. The creaky boots of the minister belonging to the $25 funeral were heard on the stairs. There was a catarrhal conversation held outside between them as to the enormity of the weather, and probably the bad taste of the deceased in selecting such a bad time to die was discussed. Then the minister came in with a pious sniff and stood revealed, a regular Stiggins as to get up—a dry, self-sufficient man, icier than the day and colder than the storm.

He deposited his hat and black gloves and yet umbrella on the poor little bed in the corner; he slapped his hands vigorously together; he took himself in well merited fashion by the ears and pulled them into the glowing sanctity of the military funeral, or the gorgeousness of the Masonic regalia, apron—all are alike inadequate and unavailing.

He rattled merrily through some selected sentences from the Bible. He gave us a prayer that sounded like peas in a dried bladder, and he came to amen with a jerk that brought me up like a patent snap. He pulled on his old gloves and grabbed his rusty hat, and with his umbrella slipping into the street, he went to the door, he offered a set form of condolence to the broken hearted mother. He told her of her sin in rebelling against the decree of Providence. He assured her that nothing could bring the dead back. He inveighed against the folly of the living in general, and then he made a horrible blunder and showed he didn't know even the sex of the dead by saying, "He cannot come to you, but you must go to him."

This was a settler for Parepa and myself. We looked at the departing minister in blank astonishment.

The door swung wide; we saw the screwdriver waving in the air as the undertaker's man held converse with the clergyman. A hush fell on everybody gathered in the little room. One word had been uttered of consolation. It was the emptiest, hollowest, most unsatisfactory moment I ever remember.

Then Parepa arose, her cloak falling about her noble figure like mourning drapery. She stood beside that miserable cherry wood box. She looked a moment on the pinched, wasted, ashy face of the dead, and then she turned to the mother and said, "The girl was always been sickly. Under the heart-broken mother's eyes had faded and wasted away with consumption, and at last the day came when the wan face failed to answer with its ghostly smile the anxious, tear-blinded eyes of the mother."

PROCLAMATION.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA, EXECUTIVE DEPARTMENT, SACRAMENTO, JULY 31, 1893.

WHEREAS, The Legislature of the State of California, at its thirty-second session, beginning on the Fourth day of January, A. D., 1893, two-thirds of all the members elected to each of the two houses of said Legislature voted in favor thereof, and passed the following amendments to the Constitution of the State of California, to-wit:

Amendment Number One. (Being Senate Constitutional Amendment No. 4.)

A resolution to propose to the people of the State of California, an amendment to section five of article five of the Constitution of the State of California, relating to the election of the Governor and Lieutenant-Governor, which it is proposed to amend said section to read as follows:

Section 5. No county, city, town, township, board of education, or school district shall ever have the right to elect any officer or for any purpose exceeding in any year the salary of the Governor, or for any such year without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose. But no such assent shall be valid unless the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall be obtained.

Section 6. No county, city, town, township, board of education, or school district shall ever have the right to elect any officer or for any purpose exceeding in any year the salary of the Governor, or for any such year without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose. But no such assent shall be valid unless the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall be obtained.

Section 7. No county, city, town, township, board of education, or school district shall ever have the right to elect any officer or for any purpose exceeding in any year the salary of the Governor, or for any such year without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose. But no such assent shall be valid unless the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall be obtained.

Section 8. No county, city, town, township, board of education, or school district shall ever have the right to elect any officer or for any purpose exceeding in any year the salary of the Governor, or for any such year without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose. But no such assent shall be valid unless the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall be obtained.

Section 9. No county, city, town, township, board of education, or school district shall ever have the right to elect any officer or for any purpose exceeding in any year the salary of the Governor, or for any such year without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose. But no such assent shall be valid unless the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall be obtained.

Section 10. No county, city, town, township, board of education, or school district shall ever have the right to elect any officer or for any purpose exceeding in any year the salary of the Governor, or for any such year without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose. But no such assent shall be valid unless the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall be obtained.

Section 11. No county, city, town, township, board of education, or school district shall ever have the right to elect any officer or for any purpose exceeding in any year the salary of the Governor, or for any such year without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose. But no such assent shall be valid unless the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall be obtained.

Section 12. No county, city, town, township, board of education, or school district shall ever have the right to elect any officer or for any purpose exceeding in any year the salary of the Governor, or for any such year without the assent of two-thirds of the qualified electors thereof, voting at an election to be held for that purpose. THE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

The ticket nominated at Cloverdale on Tuesday last, if we except one or two candidates, is a strong one from a non-partizan standpoint. The candidates were selected from every section of the county excepting Petaluma and Healdsburg. The former town has been particularly unfortunate in securing representation upon the Republican county ticket, but notwithstanding her many disappointments the past ten or twelve years old Petaluma has always come to the fore with a big majority for the Republican nominees. That she feels sore over the defeat of Frank Collins for Sheriff is to be expected, as it was all she asked of the convention. But in this campaign, as in former ones, she will no doubt take her disappointment in good grace and support the ticket as of old. Petaluma is all right every time. Who? Petaluma.

POLITICAL POINTERS.

Wm. F. Wines will be the Democratic nominee for County Clerk if he will consent to run.

This is on the Q. T. Emmet Seawell will be pitted against Bob Poppe for Senator.

Frank Doud of Vallejo Township will undoubtedly be nominated by the Democrats for County Assessor.

The Democrats are urging Frank Grace of Santa Rosa to accept the nomination for Sheriff, and they are assuring him that his nomination will be equivalent to an election.

It is said that Billy Mills, Republican candidate for Auditor and Recorder, is a sure winner and that the best thing the Democrats can do is to endorse his nomination when they meet in Santa Rosa next week.

The Constable fight is waxing hot in this township. It is said that Charley Weise will get the nomination and that Chas. Ohm will be his deputy.

B. F. Campbell, Chairman of the Sonoma Township Republican delegation, has notified the delegates to meet in this place next Saturday for the purpose of nominating a Justice of the Peace and Constable.

Judge J. M. Cheney will receive the Republican nomination for Justice of the Peace of Sonoma Township and his Democratic opponent will be Judge Gibson of Glen Ellen.

The Democrats are talking of Robt. P. Hill of this valley for County Treasurer.

John Wagoner, it is said, will be the "dark horse" for the Democratic nomination of Constable of this township.

An exchange has started something entirely new and original in the missing word contest business. It is this: "A good church deacon accidentally sat down on the business end of a carpet tack. He at once sprang up and said only two words. The last word was 'it.' Any person guessing the first word and sending us a dollar in cash will be entitled to the paper one year."

The letter S is in the ascendant—Sampson, Schley, Shafter and Santiago. The affluant is sounding—Buffalo News.

The letter S is also in the descendant. Witness Spain's sickly smile as she seeks succor and sinks in the soup. See?—Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

Carp and cat fish are quite plentiful in Sonoma Creek and every day fishermen can be seen on the water front with large catches.

The young ladies of this place miss the pleasant smiles of Anton Kiser. Anton has not been seen in this little burg the past week.

Mr. Jerold Kelly, Secretary of the Excelsior Athletic Club of San Francisco, better known as a "Senator," was a guest at the Donahue residence last Sunday.

Mrs. Linehan of Sonoma, accompanied by her daughter, Miss Marjory, and her sister, Mrs. Bell of San Francisco, visited Embarcadero friends one day this week.

Master George Edmonson of San Francisco, after spending his vacation of several weeks with his friend, Victor Donahue, returned to his home last Monday morning accompanied by his mother and sister, who came up from the city last week.

A San Francisco gentleman, rumor says, fell in love with an Embarcadero young lady while visiting this place last Sunday. Now, Mr. Kelly, look out for the Shellville base ball boys, for they will not get left by a San Francisco gentleman. They clear everything in their way and they do not wish to see you hurt.

On Wednesday last vivid recollections were presented to the minds of the old-time residents of the palmy days when the old steamer Sonoma plied between Embarcadero and San Francisco and when the white sails of sloops and schooners carrying the freight of the entire Sonoma Valley dotted the tules. On that day no less than thirteen fruit and grain wagons were strung out at the Lower Landing waiting their turn to unload at the warehouse, where the "Four Sisters" was receiving her cargo. The principal fruit being shipped are pears and the heaviest shippers are Messrs. Howe and Hall.

Did You Take Scott's Emulsion

through the winter? If so, we are sure it quieted your cough, healed the rawness in your throat, increased your weight, gave you more color, and made you feel better in every way. But perhaps your cough has come back again, or you are getting a little thin and pale. Then, why not continue the same helpful remedy right through the summer? It will do you as much good as when the weather is cold.

Its persistent use will certainly give you a better appetite and a stronger digestion.

It will cure your weak throat and heal your inflamed lungs. It will cure every case of consumption, when a cure is possible.

HER ANSWER.

By A. H. HUDDART.

At the feet of a maiden, fair as springtime's bright flowers,
But a youth who was goodly to see,
To arms! As the bugle called upward, he leapt,
Crying, dearest, that call is for me!
And an ocean of fondness looked out of her eyes,
Like the billows they fair bosom rose,
As he asked: "Shall I go, dear, to fight for the flag?"
What her answer was every one knows.

There'll be fighting to-day. See! the enemy comes.
In the thick of the battle I'll be;
Hear the marching of squadrons, the roll of the drums,
The morrow I never may see.
But the love o'er her beautiful face spread its glow,
As the sunrise in radiance grows,
As he asked: "Dear, I may have to die for the flag."
What her answer was every one knows.

But charmed seemed his life till the battle was o'er,
And nobly his duty was done;
On the enemy's ramparts he planted the flag,
Fighting on till he spiked every gun.
And home from the conflict the conqueror comes,
And his scars and his honors he shows,
As he says: "May I now wed the bride I have won?"
What her answer was every one knows.

COURT PROCEEDINGS.

The calendars were light in the departments of the Superior Court on Monday. Judge Albert G. Burnett called both calendars, and a number of interesting matters were settled. The resume of the day's business is given below.

N. B. Coffman was appointed administrator of the estate of Anna M. Coffman in a bond of $600.

Final distribution of the estate of Henry Schlake was continued to August 15th.

Default of defendant was entered and the matter was referred to the Court Commissioner in the divorce proceedings of Arlington vs. Arlington.

In the suit brought by A. Bonatti against the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway, permission was granted to file an amended complaint. Ten days were granted to file an answer.

These persons were admitted to citizenship: Joseph Walker, C. Camanotti, Achille Paladini, Albert Louis Neunfeldt, Daniel Schwarz, John A. Bier and John Striebel were admitted to citizenship Monday afternoon.

Default was entered and the proceedings in the divorce suit brought by Elva Cardinet against Ernest H. Cardinet was submitted to the Court Commissioner.

F. M. Starke was arraigned upon a charge of grand larceny and Sam Sinclair upon a charge of arson. The plea of both men will be made on August 12th.

Big Price for a Broken Heart.

Not long since a Danville, Ill., jury ordered the male defendant in a breach of promise case to pay the competent sum of $44,333.33 to the afflicted fair one. Though it is a pretty high estimate of blighting affliction, there is another estimate which, if not in dollars and cents exactly as high, yet in general consideration of excellence reaches as lofty an altitude. This is the estimate of the people's to the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy for constipation. The action of this gentle but effective laxative is never accompanied by the griping so marked in the operation of most cathartics. It is an incomparable remedy for any preventive of malarial, rheumatic and kidney complaints, and a promoter of appetite and sleep.

TO CLEANSE THE SYSTEM

Effectually yet gently, when costive or bilious, or when the blood is impure or sluggish, to permanently overcome habitual constipation, to awaken the kidneys and liver to a healthy activity, without irritating or weakening them, to dispel headaches, colds or fevers, use Syrup of Figs. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co.

Hip Disease

Little Girl the Victim—She Took a Few Bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and Was Cured.

My little girl became afflicted with hip disease when she was five years old. She was confined to her bed for six or seven weeks the doctor applied weights to the affected limb. When she got up she was not able to walk across the floor. She had lost all her strength and day by day she became thinner. One day I happened to receive one of Hood's Sarsaparilla Calendars and on one of the slips was a testimonial telling of a cure of a severe case of hip disease by Hood's Sarsaparilla. I decided to give this medicine to my daughter and when she had taken three bottles her appetite was excellent and she looked quite well and was very much strengthened. She has not used her crutches for over eight months and walks to school every day." Mrs. G. A. LaRosa, Oroville, Cal.

Ordinance No. 58.

Title—An ordinance determining that the public interest and necessity of the City of Sonoma demand the acquisition, construction and completion by said City of a permanent system of municipal water-works, and of all things connected with the use thereof.

The Board of Trustees of the City of Sonoma do hereby ordain as follows: Section 1. It is hereby determined and declared that the public interest and necessity of the City of Sonoma, demand the acquisition, construction and completion by said City of a permanent system of municipal water works, including all necessary lands, rights of way, water rights, distributing pipes, leases, contracts for the supplying of water, structures, aqueducts, reservoirs, wells, tanks, machinery for the same, and other things necessary for the proper use thereof, to supply the City of Sonoma, and the inhabitants thereof, with a sufficient quantity of pure, fresh water for domestic use, and for the use of the Fire Department, and for flushing sewers, sprinkling streets, and other purposes.

It is also hereby determined and declared that, the cost of the acquisition, construction and completion of the aforesaid system of water works by said City, will be too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of the said City of Sonoma.

Section 2. Upon the approval thereof by the President of the Board of Trustees of the City of Sonoma this ordinance shall be published for at least two weeks consecutively in THE SONOMA INDEX-TRIBUNE, a newspaper of general circulation printed and published in said City of Sonoma, and the Clerk of the Board of Trustees of said City of Sonoma is hereby authorized and directed to cause said publication of this ordinance to be made as aforesaid.

LOCAL HAPPENINGS.

THE DEMOCRATS.

They Held Their Primaries Last Thursday—Delegates From Sonoma Township.

The Democratic primaries held last Thursday in this valley were remarkably harmonious and the delegates selected to represent the party at the Sonoma Convention on August 22nd, were elected by a most part without opposition. The consequence was a very light vote was polled.

In Sonoma Humphrey Hill and Joe B. Small were elected delegates without opposition.

San Luis—Hon. Robt. Howe.
Glen Ellen—B. L. Pieratt, A. H. Hansen and A. R. Harrison.

Brevities.

R. M. Sims, who is now practicing law in San Francisco, has already entered actively into politics. Mr. Sims is a delegate to the Democratic Convention of that county.

Duhring sells groceries, etc., cheaper than any other store in town. If you don't believe it call in and price his goods. The other stores are not in it with him.

Four-horse wagon loads of wood have been passing through town daily the past week from the the Ribbi ranch on the Sonoma mountain. This wood is being hauled to the Dregel winery, where it will be used in firing up the engines the coming vintage season.

Julius Fochetti is one of the busiest men in Sonoma. Besides himself he now has employed in his shop three men, who are kept constantly busy handling the large amount of work that comes into the shop daily.

Casper Hageman, the old man who died on Friday of last week from the effects of a kick from a horse, was laid to rest in the Catholic Cemetery last Sunday afternoon. Rev. Father Quill conducted the services in the presence of the near neighbors and immediate friends of the unfortunate man.

The electricians have been busy engaged the past week in wiring the stores and residences that are to be lighted by electricity as soon as the plant of the Sonoma Electric Light Company is in running order, which will be in a few weeks. Almost every business house in town will be furnished with lights and with our streets well lighted the old town will present a new appearance and will make a favorable impression upon visitors.

A petition is being circulated and numerous signed praying that the San Francisco and North Pacific Railway establish a station at the Agua Rica Hot Springs. At the present time visitors to that popular resort are compelled to alight at Verano and walk a distance of nearly half a mile in the hot sun over a dusty road to the springs. A station at Agua Rica will prove a great accommodation to the general public.

This is the busiest season of the year for the farmer and he is kept going from early morning until night handling his hay crop and rushing to market his fruit, which ripens very fast during the hot spell which prevailed this week. Although this year's crop in Sonoma Valley does not reach the standard of quantity of years past, nevertheless the fruit is large and the price received makes up for the shortage with but few exceptions. Sonoma Valley, with a fair season, will produce next year the largest crop of hay and grain known in these parts for many years. All these parts every available tract ready has been rented and many have been unable to secure acreage desired.

SONOMA CLOVERDALE CONVENTION.

A HARMONIOUS GATHERING OF REPRESENTATIVE REPUBLICANS.

The Contest Over Nomination of Sheriff an Exciting One—The Ticket—Frank M. Burris Elected County Committeeman

"Cloverdale!" shouted the brakeman in a stentorian voice as he passed from car to car on the special train bound for the Republican Convention on Tuesday morning last. In a few minutes afterward the train bearing the 180 delegates and a large number of the "push" and friends of the respective candidates pulled into the pretty little town of Cloverdale.

The delegates were met and escorted to the convention hall by the Cloverdale brass band, which rendered a number of patriotic airs.

O. O. Webber, Chairman of the Republican County Central Committee, called the meeting to order.

J. M. Thompson of Santa Rosa was chosen President by acclamation.

Tom B. Wilson of Cloverdale was chosen Secretary and J. L. Camm of Petaluma Assistant Secretary.

Committees were then appointed as follows:

Credentials—H. Maxwell, Carroll Jones, Frank P. Bane, M. Newburger, Geo. B. Burger, Geo. A. Burch, J. R. Denman, J. C. Ingalls.

Platform and Resolutions—Thos. Brush, John Burroughs, Lyman Green, Dr. Swisher, Granville Harris, E. E. Shields, A. E. Burnham.

Order of Business—F. A. Wickert, J. P. Berry, A. L. Garrett, L. A. Maddocks, Charles Carr, A. Watson, Walter Nolan.

The following gentlemen were then selected as members of the Republican County Central Committee:

Forestville—L. A. Maddocks.
North Sebastopol—H. Corbin.
South Sebastopol—Dr. J. P. Miller.

Bloomfield—C. Jones.
Occidental—D. Robinson.
Bodega—Samuel Boyd.
Freestone—T. F. Ward.
Cloverdale (town)—T. B. Wilson.
Cloverdale (country)—J. B. Elliott.

Knight's Valley—C. Pitts.
Mendocino—Geo. Thayer.
Santa Rosa—First precinct, E. E. Shields; second, W. J. Eardley; third, Fred G. Nagle; fourth, G. A. Burch; fifth, J. F. Smith; sixth, F. P. Bane; seventh, Mark Body.

Lewis—H. Gregory.
Fulton—W. E. Woolsey.
Sonoma—F. M. Burris.
Matanzas—L. Benjamin.
Glen Ellen—J. M. Zane.
San Luis—B. F. Campbell.
Agua Caliente—J. B. Morris.
Healdsburg—First precinct, F. Koenig; second, E. G. Hall.
Healdsburg Road—D. Goddard.
Skaggs Springs—A. N. Clark.
Petaluma—First precinct, M. Walsh; second, Lyman Green; third, H. P. Brainerd; fourth, F. A. Wickersham; fifth, T. McGuire.
Table Mountain, John B. Doda.
Wilson—A. S. Hall.
Salt Point—H. A. Richardson.
East Windsor—John Leslie.
West Windsor—J. H. Jacobson.
The noon hour having arrived the Convention adjourned until 1 p. m.

Upon the reassembling of the convention the various committees submitted their reports and after assessing candidates $5 and delegates 50 cents each for convention expenses balloting commenced and the following ticket was nominated:

Sheriff—Frank J. Murphy.
Clerk—Somers B. Fulton.
District Attorney—O. O. Webber.
Auditor and Recorder—W. A. Mills.

Treasurer—E. F. Woodward.
Assessor—M. V. Vanderhoof.
Superintendent of Schools—J. E. Metzger.
County Surveyor—N. V. V. Smyth.

Coroner—Dr. Pierce.
Senator—R. A. Poppe.
Assemblyman Sixteenth District—H. M. Le Baron.
Assemblyman Seventeenth District—Sheridan Peterson.

NOTES.

The contest over the office of Sheriff was a most exciting one and seven ballots were taken before Murphy received the nomination, the final ballot resulting in a majority of half a vote for him, as follows: Murphy, 89; Collins, 88; O. O. Webber also defeated Pond of Healdsburg by half a vote.

Frank M. Burris was unanimously elected County Central Committeeman for Sonoma.

Robt. A. Poppe received the fifteen solid votes of the Sonoma delegation for Senator.

The Republicans of Petaluma feel very sore over the defeat of Frank Collins.
Healdsburg trotted out three candidates before the convention and got left on every one of them.
The Sonoma delegation will select candidates for Justice of the Peace and Constable next week. There are three candidates for Constable, to-wit: E. J. Robin, C. C. Weise and Chas. H. Ohm. Judge Cheney is the only Republican aspirant for Justice of the Peace.

Santa Rosa Race Meeting.

The prospects for a capital week's sport, at the race meeting to be given at Santa Rosa are of a most promising nature and lovers of harness horses should enjoy a rare treat, as the animals entered are of unusually high class and very evenly matched. The free-for-all trotting races should furnish exceptionally good contests, some seven or eight horses capable of trotting three beats close to 2:10 being on the grounds. A large number of first class pacers will also be in attendance and of these Joe Wheeler (2:07 1/2) is undoubtedly the best, although several others in different strings are thought to be able to force him to extend himself. The management have arranged one race, free for all trotters and pacers, in which it is hoped that Joe Wheeler will be pitted against Azote, who holds the world's record for trotting geldings 2:04 1/2.

Sonoma county horsemen will have an opportunity of renewing acquaintances with many old time drivers who have not visited Sonoma county since the last race meeting some six years ago. Parson Bunch from San Jose will be in evidence and also Jimmie Sullivan who used to drive Vic H. and Almont Patchen, the famous heavy pacer; Billy Donathan, who used to drive Gibraltar, Starr King, Nellie R. Magdallah and a host of horses well known to people throughout the county. Then there will be Ed. Lafferty, who drove W. Wood to victory in 2:07 and Seymour Wilkes, the famous horse, in 2:08. Walter Maben, who has fully recovered the use of his broken arm, and who drove Stamboul in the well-remembered race with Arab at the last race meeting ever held in Santa Rosa, will be seen in the sulky.

It is also proposed to give some special races for local horses. These events always attract a great deal of interest and as contests between local horses tend to encourage the American sport of road driving they will be made a prominent feature of the programme.

A SANTA ROSA SENSATION.

Mrs. W. H. Pool Takes a Shot at Dr. S. M. Rohr.

On Wednesday last Mrs. W. H. Pool, wife of Ex-Deputy County Recorder Pool, visited the office of Dr. S. M. Rohr in Santa Rosa, and shortly after a number of people in the immediate vicinity were startled by a pistol shot. A rush was made to the doctor's office by people in the near neighborhood. It was then discovered that the bullet had went wide of the mark and that the physician had escaped injury. The attempt to shoot out the life of the young M. D. was all the more sensational because he was to be married on that day to a young lady of Santa Rosa. The day after the shooting Mrs. Pool, who must have been out of her mind when she tried to kill her physician, talked freely about the episode. Among other things she said:

"I tried to kill Dr. Rohr because he had insulted me and I was afraid he might do so again. I am sorry now that I fired the shot, but my regret is not inspired by any trouble the act may have brought upon him. I feel kindly toward the innocent young girl he married last evening, and I dislike the notoriety I have brought upon myself, my husband and my children."

At St. Francis' Church.

The devotion of the Forty Hours adoration of the Blessed Sacrament will be observed at St. Francis' Church commencing on Sunday at 11 o'clock and ending Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock. High Mass will be celebrated on Sunday at 11 o'clock, after which there will be a procession of the Blessed Sacrament, in which all the school children will take part. Devotions on Sunday and Monday mornings at 7:30.

On Sunday evening the services will be conducted by Rev. Father Kissane of Ballarat, Australia, and on Monday evening by the Rev. Father Byrne of Novato, Marin county.

A special choir for the occasion will be under the directorship of Mrs. Emparan and Mrs. L. Waller will preside at the organ.

The U. S. Surveying Ship Patterson, of which Will Appleton, formerly of this place, is Paymaster, has again been put into commission and will shortly leave for the Hawaiian Islands.

Friend McHarvey of this place, who joined Battery K, Heavy Artillery of the United States regular army, arrived at Manila on the transport Newport on the 31st of last month.

On July 31st the first land engagement at Manila between the Spanish and American soldiers was fought and resulted in an overwhelming victory for the Americans. Malcolm Elliott of Company A, and Arthur Schell of Company B, California Volunteers, were both in the battle and their many Sonoma friends rejoiced upon learning that they were not among the killed or wounded.

The Friday Night Cotillion Club gave a brilliant and successful cotillion and assembly at Union Hall last Saturday evening. The decorations were both exquisite and artistic. Japanese lanterns, ferns and bamboo gave a most charming effect. The figures, which were specially arranged by the leaders, Sanford G. Lewald and Miss Sara Cady, were heart, cross and others of equal beauty. Mr. Lewald, leader of the Entre Nous, San Francisco, is a man of wide social experience and the way in which he managed the german Saturday evening reflected much credit upon himself and was complimentary to the club. The costumes worn by the ladies on this occasion were handsome and many of the gentlemen were in full dress. At 12 o'clock the assembly came to a close. This cotillion and assembly closed the summer season. The club will be reorganized.

Judge Davis of Fresno is visiting his brother, Dr. H. H. Davis. Mrs. Lulu Wells of Red Bluff is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Law.

Wayne Day came down from Santa Rosa yesterday and is visiting Sonoma friends.

Carl Bundschu and Kurt Schlüss of San Francisco, well-known here as crack ninners, laid low three deer while on their late trip to Humboldt county.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Madison of Petaluma, accompanied by a party of San Francisco friends and F. Weems of this place, will shortly leave for an outing in Lake county.

George Thomas, the popular horseman who has had charge of Rudolph Spreckels' horses at Petaluma the past two years, is now horse trainer at the Spreckels ranch near Agua Caliente.

Victor Sartori of Fairville was in town Thursday. Mr. Sartori is one of Sonoma Valley's most enterprising dairymen and enjoys the distinction of having one of the most complete modern dairies in Sonoma county.

Carl Dresel, accompanied by Jas. Pieratt, Chas. Weise and J. Kerbridge, is in the Sonoma mountains near Glen Ellen hunting deer. The party has already killed a number of deer and their Sonoma friends are anxiously waiting for a feast on venison.

Principal Benj. Weed of the High School delivered an interesting lecture on Art Saturday night before the Literary Society of the Sonoma Epworth League. Mr. Weed spoke in the pleasing manner for which he is noted and was listened to by an appreciative audience.

J. P. Weems must please the people of Sonoma or they would not go to him for their supplies. The hotels seem to stick to him, and why? Because Jim sells fine Kiegan hams and treats every one alike. Petaluma isn't it.

Beware of Ointments for Catarrh that Contain Mercury, as mercury will surely destroy the sense of smell and completely derange the whole system when entering in through the mucous surfaces. Such articles should never be used except on prescriptions from reputable physicians, as the damage they will do is ten fold to the good you can possibly derive from them. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, O., contains no mercury, and is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. In buying Hall's Catarrh Cure be sure you get the genuine. It is taken internally and made in Toledo, Ohio, by F. J. Cheney & Co. Testimonials free. Sold by Druggists, price 75c. per bottle. The Indigent Dead.

It is not generally known, but it is nevertheless a fact, that the indigent dead of Sonoma county are buried by Santa Rosa undertakers, who were awarded the contract by the Supervisors. On Thursday afternoon of last week new bids were opened and J. C. Peterson & Co. received the contract, their bid being the lowest. For burying the indigent dead at the County Hospital and in Santa Rosa, township this firm receives $7.50, and in other townships as follows: Analy and Russian River, $11; Bodega, Redwood, Petaluma, Vallejo and Sonoma, $15.

A. W. Weaver, who is now located on the west side of the Plaza, is doing a large blacksmith business. His El Verano shop is still running and under the management of J. G. Sturgil is keeping up the business conducted by Mr. Weaver for many years.

INDIVISIBLE.

A moment face to face they stood,
While soul met soul in honest eyes
That trembled glowing through unshed
tears,
Born of a love that never dies.

They met to speak the saddest word
That e'er on human lips can dwell,
But, oh, the mockery to dream
That such as these could take farewell!

For as two separate clouds unite
In wake of the departed sun,
Their kindred essence pure and sweet,
These twain had softly merged in one.

They might be severed pole from pole,
Might live through all the years apart,
What mattered time and space to them
Whose home was in each other's heart?

He craved a kiss of that fine gold
Whose rays wreathed her forehead glowed,
Bending to grasp the boon, he clasped
A zone of pearl about her waist.

A moment more, and he was gone
From sight, might cease. High heart and mind,
Stronghold of tenderness and truth,
Defied the hour and staid behind!

The seasons rolled, and ne'er again
Thus face to face 'twas theirs to stand,
Yet heart to heart they walked the world
On to the goal, the silent land.

Oh, gift of gifts, a noble soul
That wraps our own in full embrace
Till all mean things in love's great sea
Are lost and lost no more placed!

A COLLEGE CALL.

"The stories printed about Smith college lately appeal to me very strangely," said a Harvard man. "Man is of so small a part in it all. A senior year experience of mine will illustrate."

"When I met the girl, I didn't know she was a college girl. The front of her waist was decorated with crazy shaped jewelry of various sorts, but I was not sufficiently enlightened at the time to know that they denoted the feminine life academic. She was a mighty nice girl. She was afraid to wet her bathing suit. She didn't mind chasing around in the mud after her own fiddler crabs, and, more wonderful still, she wouldn't even gopher when they crunched as she ran the hook through them. She was no stern, analytical, cold blooded thing either. You ought to have heard her yell when the fish bit; also, she knew enough when her hand was squeezed to squeeze back. I had a very interesting summer of it. In the course of the season I learned, of course, that she was a Smith girl, just as I learned where she lived and who her folks were and what her first name was and that she wasn't engaged to anybody (and never meant to be) and all that sort of thing. The Smith part didn't bother me at all. I began to feel that she was a type. The higher education she had, and the fact that she had been to the Yale-Harvard football game at Springfield. She fairly grabbed at the chance to go to the game. She had never been to a Springfield game, she said, except with an Amherst man, and that, of course, didn't count. It would be too awfully jolly for any use to go with a Harvard man."

"I suggested that I would like to go over to Northampton a week or two before the game. Of course she said I must. Just at the time of the game there were so many men in the chapel every morning that there was no participation in having one there. But about two or three weeks before the game it would be glorious to have a real Harvard man in chapel all by his lonesome."

"Somehow this sort of response was not altogether satisfying, but I was too enthusiastic to inquire too curiously. In the fullness of elapsed time I don't mind telling you that I had some pretty definite plans about that visit to Northampton. In meditative moments I had pleasing ideas about certain confidences I would make to the boys before I appeared with the girl at the game."

"I went to Northampton. I arrived on a Thursday evening. I went to the cottage where she lived. I waited half an hour before she came down. Then she appeared with her hat on."

"I'm so glad you've come," she said, and I'm so sorry that I have a voice club meeting at seven o'clock. The president is sick, and I'm the president, so I really have to go. I'm really awfully late now. You may walk over with me if you like."

"It was about three minutes' walk. She told me in that time how to come to chapel the next morning."

"I went back to the Norwood and retired to the little box in the basement that they could call a cafe and contemplated things. After awhile the things contemplated became less gloomy. I met two Amherst men down there and told them my experience and disappointment. They looked at each other and laughed a good deal and said that it was rather strange, considering that I was not an Amherst man. They were rather bitter about it and not altogether polite, and I went to bed."

"I went to chapel in the morning. The girl was waiting for me in the vestibule. I was looked over impersonally by 600 or more young women when they came in, also when they went out. Then I was told to hurry away like a good boy and come back after dinner, say, about 8 o'clock. I gently intimated that 12 hours in Northampton was a lonely prospect. She was awfully sorry, of course, but there was an especially important basket ball practice that afternoon. If she staid away, she wouldn't be allowed to play in the match game the next day. Might I come to watch the practice? Good gracious, no! Men were never allowed except at Men games, and then only the very oldest and married members of the faculty."

"I went over to Amherst and saw some fellows I knew over there. The man I knew best was going to have a beautiful time in his rooms that night. The window seat bulged with beer bottles. He wanted me to stay, but I regretfully broke away and went back to Northampton. I reached the cottage at 7:55. The girl was in the reception room, waiting for me."

"Goodness, but you are late!" said she. "I came very near going without waiting for you. Astronomy lecture this morning was postponed until tonight, so that we could have the real stars, you know. I'm sorry, but of course it isn't my fault. I know you don't want to wander around town tonight, so I have asked my roommate to come down and talk with you."

"She went up into the hall and called her roommate, who was short and globular and wanted to discuss Kant in relation to the future of woman. She wanted to know also what that dear Professor James of Harvard was like and whether I had ever heard him explain what he meant by certain passages in his blamed old textbook. She went to her room and brought down the textbook to show exactly what she meant. After an hour and a half I fled to the cafe of the Norwood."

"Next morning I went to chapel again, as had been ordained by the evanescent young woman before she trotted away to look at the stars. Then she went away to the basket ball match game. She said that if I wanted to walk down by the gymnasium I could have lots of fun hearing them cheer. I thanked her. She told me to come around at about 4 o'clock and we would go for a trolley ride to Florence. I didn't go down to the gymnasium to hear the girls yell, but my drooping spirits revived. I found that Florence wasn't much of a town, only a settlement really, and was five or six miles out in the country."

"I was at the cottage promptly at 3 o'clock, also at 4 o'clock. She came down very content at 4:15; said she was awfully put out, but the board of editors of some blamed magazine or other had had a meeting, and she didn't dare stay away a minute for fear they would vote to print an article by a girl she just simply hated. They had been trying to get it printed against her will for two months, and she didn't intend that they should take advantage of the fact she had a man in town to slip it in, so there!

"We got on the car. So did 18 girls who seemed most interested in us. The car swung its rattling way out into the country. We talked about scenery. I saw lots of groves and shady lanes along the way. I spoke about them once or twice."

"It's ever so much prettier near Florence," she said.

"We ran off on a siding, and the 18 girls climbed out and began seeking asters and things beside the track."

"Goodness!" said the girl. "They are getting their botany specimens. I had forgotten all about mine. Went to get some for me? That's a nice boy!"

"I did. The car started and sailed away while I was picking the lovely things. I chased a quarter of a mile. The 18 young ladies back near the siding were amused."

"Look at your watch, please," said the girl. I did so. She saw it and was much perturbed. "I'm going to be late for dinner," she said, "and it will be the third time this year."

"Why," said I, "aren't we going to get off?"

"Goodness, no! We are going back on this car as fast as it can go."

"But I haven't seen Florence," I wailed.

"Silly goose," she said, "this is Florence!"

"We only stopped once on the way back. That once was at the siding, and all the 18 girls piled on again. They remembered me, I saw."

"Phi Kappa meets tonight," said the girl as we hurried into the campus, and of course I have to go. Chapel tomorrow!"

"She said a lot more, but I confess I didn't hear her. She was very much surprised when I told her I couldn't possibly stay over."

"Anyhow, perhaps it's just as well," she said, "because you couldn't come to the house on Sunday."

"Yes, I took her to the game. I believe she had a good time. I have seen her once or twice since. But I don't think as much of the higher education of women as I did." —New York Sun.

THE WONDERS OF SCIENCE.

LUNG TROUBLE AND CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED.

AN EMINENT NEW YORK CHEMIST AND SCIENTIST MAKES A FREE OFFER TO OUR READERS.

The distinguished New York chemist, T. A. Slocum, demonstrating his discovery of a reliable and absolute cure for Consumption (Pulmonary Tuberculosis) and all bronchial, throat, lung and chest diseases, tubercular coughs, catarrhal affections, general decline and weakness, loss of flesh, and all conditions of wasting away, will send THREE FREE BOTTLES (all different) of his New Discovery to any afflicted reader of the INDEX-TRIBUNE writing for them.

"New Scientific Treatment" has cured thousands permanently by its timely use, and he considers it a simple professional duty to give humanity to donate a trial of his infallible cure.

Science daily develops new wonders, and this great chemist, patiently experimenting for years, has produced results as beneficial to humanity as can be claimed by any modern genius. His assertions that lung troubles and consumptions are curable in any climate is proven by "heart felt letters of gratitude," filed in his American and European laboratories in thousands from those cured in all parts of the world.

Medical experts concede that bronchial, chest and lung troubles lead to consumption, which, uninterrupted, means speedy and certain death.

Simply write to T. A. Slocum, M. C., 98 Pine street, New York, giving postoffice and express address, and the free medicine will be promptly sent. Sufferers are urged to take instant advantage of his generous proposition.

Please tell the Doctor that you saw his offer in the INDEX-TRIBUNE.

ONE OF TWO WAYS.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine, and as such is not liable to any form of disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

Chief Cause.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and very close to the bladder, therefore any pain, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passages is often, by mistake, attributed to female weakness or womb trouble of some sort. The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided. To find out correctly, set your urine aside for twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates kidney or bladder trouble. The mild and extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney and bladder remedy, is soon realized. If you need a medicine you should have the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail. Mention the Index-Tribune and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietor of this paper guarantees the genuineness of this offer.
